

Sunbeams.

Generosity is a good trait; but no man is to be trusted in giving himself away.—Yonkers Statesman.

Said the General to the Major, "What is your rank, sir?" and the Major replied, "I am a Major, General."

Are they called paupers because they do nothing but draw the money of the little merchants?—Wit and Wisdom.

When a rich man is called a regular little devil in business, does it mean that he is in business?—Wit and Wisdom.

"I'm mashed on you," remarked the troglodyte to the young lady, as she slapped it.—Omaha Daily. Then they did it stinger?

Advice to owners of cats. This is the proper season of the year to plant kittens at the roots of grape vines.—Harford Paper.

It is the fellow who lends his umbrella to a couple of girls, while he walks behind them in the rain that gives a ducking.—Civ. Serv. Rep't.

The reason that an undertaker is rarely a melancholy man is because he can always bury himself in his business.—Boston Times.

We have often seen the article in our old text books about musical mice, but our neighbors surprise us by announcing that he has been introduced.

The young man whose girl is a clerk in a perfumery store was somewhat indignant when she dined here because he color a few cents for cologne.—Somerville Journal.

A wise father is his son's.—Now, John, I do not object to your being a fool and an idiot. Be a fool and an idiot if you want to, but what I do not wish you to do is to let everybody know it.

"My love for you is like that glowing fire," said Adolphe, as he looked at the burning anthracite and then at the object of his affections. "What a great fall," she murmured, and the spark got quite warm trying to think how she should answer the sentence.

"Never milk while the cow is eating," is the advice of a bucolic contemporary. Judging from the character of some of the milk that comes to market, it would be more to the point never to milk while the cow is drinking.

Western metaphor.—This is the latest Western form of saying a man is languid. He was languidly chosen by a convention of the propertyless to jump from a new pine platform into the sweet sublimity.—Chicago Tribune.

"Seth," said Mrs. Spicer, "I wish you would go and see to the furnace; that Kate is putting in coal as if she was driving a locomotive." And when Spicer remarked that the girl was perhaps a railway under-kate, Mrs. S. grew warmer than ever.

A minister while marrying a couple recently, was rather disappointed in asking the bridegroom if he was willing to take the young lady for his wedded wife, by his scratching his head and saying: "Yes, I am willing but I must have her have her sister."

When the funny man of a London daily writes a good joke, the editorial staff is called up, cypresses are set and the paper does not appear that day. And it is a noteworthy fact that no London daily has missed a publication day for ten years back.—Breakfast Table.

A young lady and her father were looking at a drugstore, who was very nicely trained the delicate little scales on which the prescription was being weighed. "How precious little now! how little!" said the girl. "Yes," said the father, "but he will not do with the bill."

In the Senate Chamber at Washington, the Chairman of the introduction of his medicine "Wavortie Kennedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of Surgery. Parties living at a distance, except in surgical cases, by sending a statement of their cases, can be treated at home. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Roadout, N. Y.

A Dutchman in Albany went out to his milkman in the street with a dish in each hand, instead of one as usual. The dish in one hand he held up and asked him if he would like to buy both vessels. The Dutchman replied, saying the action to the word, "Dis is for the milk, and dis is for the water—and I will send you as to the milk mine self."

"When I was young," said the man with a sort of youthful sanctification, "I used to swim fifteen or sixteen miles every day." "That ain't nothing," was the run-of-the-mill reply, "when I was only ten years old I swam all the way from Rochester to Albany—about four hundred miles. I floated on the boat, though."—Synopsis Standard.

"Yes, young man," said the venerable druggist to his new clerk, who he was about to initiate into the mysteries of the profession, "after a life-time's experience I can confidently assure you that seven jars containing the seven specific drugs of our trade would suffice to get up any drug store." "But, sir, what do you have these other 800 for?" "What for? Why, to sell."

A man who went West to "grow up with the country" last returned. He got tired in time to get acquainted with a tornado which was doing a little visiting in that section. The tornado took him up an exceedingly high altitude and showed him all the possessions of the earth, and then let him drop down again. He says he has grown wiser in the last few days to satisfy him for all the rest of his natural life.

At an evening party a lady was called upon for a song and sang: "I'll strike again my faithful life." Her husband was observed to dodge and squint and start hurriedly from the room, remarking: "Not if I know it, she won't. She believes those blues out of her home and I stand it like a man; but when she threatened to hit me in a strange house and calls me a liar before a whole crowd, I'll run as long as I have a spark of manhood left."

As young Clunkerford was getting into a railway car the other evening, he turned around to bid a friend farewell. In doing so he happened to see the foot of a young lady who was standing next to the door. The damsel, compressing her pretty brow into a frowning line, ejaculated: "You chivalrous fellow, you! You have been looking foolish and apologized; but Clunkerford was equal to the occasion. 'My dear young lady,' he exclaimed, 'you would have felt large enough to be seen, and then they wouldn't be trodden upon.' Her brow relaxed, her eyes sparkled, her lip smiled, and the lady was forgotten."

BLAIR'S PRESENT.

"This 'ere man," said Bijah to his Honor, as he brought on Alexander Martin, "tried to bribe me last night to let him out, and when that wouldn't work, he threatened my life and your too."

"How much did he offer you?"

"Two shillings."

"And you stood firm?"

"Firm he a rook, your Honor."

"Good! You may consider yourself elevated to the top shelf of my estimation. How easy it would have been for you to have taken that money and skipped for Europe, and passed the remainder of your days in luxurious seclusion, and yet you turned your back on the temptation. Bijah, your conduct shall be reported to the Police Commissioner in glowing terms, and next winter you shall have the biggest pair of ear-ruffs of any citizen in Detroit as a personal gift from me. So, Mr. Martin, you threatened our lives, eh?"

"No, sir; I simply said that when I got out I would see about this."

"Are you insane?"

"No, sir."

"Well then, be a little careful how you make threats. You are charged with drunkenness."

"Yes, sir; but it was for next Christmas. I always get drunk on Christmas."

"Were't you rather taking time by the forelock?"

"I couldn't tell whether I'd be alive next Winter."

"I see, do you call that a good line of reasoning?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, then, because you may not be alive next Winter I shall send you to the Workhouse now. Please consider yourself off on a summer vacation for thirty days."

The Prisoner so considered, and sat down and enjoyed the sensation of having his board paid four weeks in advance.

THE POOL-POOLS.

The Pi Utes and the Kickapoes of the wilderness are hard to reason with. But there is another tribe of irascible, living in much larger wigwags, and having all the look of civilized people, which is quite as intractable to the teachings of a new philosophy that upsets their ancestral totems.

This is the tribe of the Pool-Pools, so called from the leading expression in their vocabulary, which furnishes them a short and easy method of disposing of all novel doctrines, discoveries and inventions of a character to interfere with their precocious notions. They may possibly serve a useful purpose, like other barbarous and semi-barbarous beings, by helping to keep down the too-prolific family of noxious or troublesome animals—thinking, or rather, talking and writing ones. Beyond this they are of small value, and they are always receding before the advance of knowledge, facing it and moving backward, still opposing the leaders and the rank from which their inextinguishable war-cry, "Pool-pool."

Prudery is often a mantle chosen to conceal triumphant vice.

Politeness is at least one of the medium virtues, but the man who always stands up when he milks a cow rather overdoes the matter, I think.

He who, with good health, has a true friend, may laugh audaciously at scorn and defy the world.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

DR. KENNEDY

would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine "Wavortie Kennedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of Surgery. Parties living at a distance, except in surgical cases, by sending a statement of their cases, can be treated at home. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Roadout, N. Y.

A Dutchman in Albany went out to his milkman in the street with a dish in each hand, instead of one as usual. The dish in one hand he held up and asked him if he would like to buy both vessels. The Dutchman replied, saying the action to the word, "Dis is for the milk, and dis is for the water—and I will send you as to the milk mine self."

"When I was young," said the man with a sort of youthful sanctification, "I used to swim fifteen or sixteen miles every day." "That ain't nothing," was the run-of-the-mill reply, "when I was only ten years old I swam all the way from Rochester to Albany—about four hundred miles. I floated on the boat, though."—Synopsis Standard.

"Yes, young man," said the venerable druggist to his new clerk, who he was about to initiate into the mysteries of the profession, "after a life-time's experience I can confidently assure you that seven jars containing the seven specific drugs of our trade would suffice to get up any drug store." "But, sir, what do you have these other 800 for?" "What for? Why, to sell."

A man who went West to "grow up with the country" last returned. He got tired in time to get acquainted with a tornado which was doing a little visiting in that section. The tornado took him up an exceedingly high altitude and showed him all the possessions of the earth, and then let him drop down again. He says he has grown wiser in the last few days to satisfy him for all the rest of his natural life.

At an evening party a lady was called upon for a song and sang: "I'll strike again my faithful life." Her husband was observed to dodge and squint and start hurriedly from the room, remarking: "Not if I know it, she won't. She believes those blues out of her home and I stand it like a man; but when she threatened to hit me in a strange house and calls me a liar before a whole crowd, I'll run as long as I have a spark of manhood left."

As young Clunkerford was getting into a railway car the other evening, he turned around to bid a friend farewell. In doing so he happened to see the foot of a young lady who was standing next to the door. The damsel, compressing her pretty brow into a frowning line, ejaculated: "You chivalrous fellow, you! You have been looking foolish and apologized; but Clunkerford was equal to the occasion. 'My dear young lady,' he exclaimed, 'you would have felt large enough to be seen, and then they wouldn't be trodden upon.' Her brow relaxed, her eyes sparkled, her lip smiled, and the lady was forgotten."

BLAIR'S PRESENT.

"This 'ere man," said Bijah to his Honor, as he brought on Alexander Martin, "tried to bribe me last night to let him out, and when that wouldn't work, he threatened my life and your too."

"How much did he offer you?"

"Two shillings."

"And you stood firm?"

"Firm he a rook, your Honor."

"Good! You may consider yourself elevated to the top shelf of my estimation. How easy it would have been for you to have taken that money and skipped for Europe, and passed the remainder of your days in luxurious seclusion, and yet you turned your back on the temptation. Bijah, your conduct shall be reported to the Police Commissioner in glowing terms, and next winter you shall have the biggest pair of ear-ruffs of any citizen in Detroit as a personal gift from me. So, Mr. Martin, you threatened our lives, eh?"

"No, sir; I simply said that when I got out I would see about this."

"Are you insane?"

"No, sir."

"Well then, be a little careful how you make threats. You are charged with drunkenness."

"Yes, sir; but it was for next Christmas. I always get drunk on Christmas."

"Were't you rather taking time by the forelock?"

"I couldn't tell whether I'd be alive next Winter."

"I see, do you call that a good line of reasoning?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, then, because you may not be alive next Winter I shall send you to the Workhouse now. Please consider yourself off on a summer vacation for thirty days."

The Prisoner so considered, and sat down and enjoyed the sensation of having his board paid four weeks in advance.

THE POOL-POOLS.

The Pi Utes and the Kickapoes of the wilderness are hard to reason with. But there is another tribe of irascible, living in much larger wigwags, and having all the look of civilized people, which is quite as intractable to the teachings of a new philosophy that upsets their ancestral totems.

This is the tribe of the Pool-Pools, so called from the leading expression in their vocabulary, which furnishes them a short and easy method of disposing of all novel doctrines, discoveries and inventions of a character to interfere with their precocious notions. They may possibly serve a useful purpose, like other barbarous and semi-barbarous beings, by helping to keep down the too-prolific family of noxious or troublesome animals—thinking, or rather, talking and writing ones. Beyond this they are of small value, and they are always receding before the advance of knowledge, facing it and moving backward, still opposing the leaders and the rank from which their inextinguishable war-cry, "Pool-pool."

Prudery is often a mantle chosen to conceal triumphant vice.

Politeness is at least one of the medium virtues, but the man who always stands up when he milks a cow rather overdoes the matter, I think.

He who, with good health, has a true friend, may laugh audaciously at scorn and defy the world.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.

The Hop Bitters Manufacturing Company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

DR. KENNEDY

NEWARK SAVINGS INSTITUTION.

800, 802 & 804 Broad Street,
COR. MECHANIC ST.

Deposits made on or before July first, 1880, draw interest from that date, and by order of the Cashier, are invested in bonds of this city or State or of the United States.

German spoken.

DANIEL DODD, President.
W. D. CARTER, Treasurer.
IRA M. HARRISON, Vice Pres.

KIDNEY-WORT
THE GREAT CURE
FOR RHEUMATISM

As it is the cause of all diseases of the KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS.

It cleanses the system of the acid poison that causes the dreadful suffering which only the victims of Rheumatism can realize.

THOUSANDS OF CASES
of the worst forms of this terrible disease have been quickly cured by its use.

PERFECTLY CURED.

KIDNEY-WORT
It cleanses, strengthens and gives new life to all the important organs of the body.

The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all diseases, and the Bowels move freely and healthily. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.

As it has been proved by thousands that is the most efficient remedy for cleansing the system of all morbid secretions, it should be used in every household as a

SPRING MEDICINE.

Always take it in conjunction with EXERCISE, FRESH AIR, and a REGULAR DIET.

It is also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, and the most efficient remedy for cleansing the system of all morbid secretions, it should be used in every household as a

KIDNEY-WORT

HOP BITTERS.

(A Medicine, not a Drink.)

CONTAINS
HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION.

AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.

THEY CURE
All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervous, Rheumatism, and Debility.

$1000 IN GOLD.

With a paid for a case they will cure all Hop Bitters, and take up as they

D. C. H. has been successful in curing all Hop Bitters, and take up as they

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

W. H. BUTLER'S

SAFES.

ROUND CORNER,
FIRE AND BURGLAR
PROOF.

EXTRA SECURE LOCKS.

W. H. BUTLER,

Formerly Valentine & Butler,
231 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

GENERAL AGENT FOR
DIEBOLD SAFE AND LOCK CO.

Send for Circular.

The Sun for 1881.

Everybody reads the Sun. In the editions of this newspaper throughout the year to come every body will find:

All the world's news, so presented that the reader will get the greatest amount of information with the least unprofitable expenditure of time and eyesight. The Sun long ago discovered the golden mean between redundant fulness and unsatisfactory brevity.

Much of that sort of news which depends less upon its recognized importance than upon its interest to mankind. From morning to morning the Sun prints a continuous story of the lives of real men and women, and of their deeds, plans, loves, hates, and struggles. Their story is more varied and more interesting than any romance that has ever been devised.

The Sun's habit is to speak out fearlessly about men and things. It is not content to be with the people as a placid mirror, and equal readiness to comment what is blameworthy or praiseworthy.

VI. Absolute independence of partisan organizations, but unwavering loyalty to true Democratic principles. The Sun believes that the Government which the Constitution gives us is a good one to keep. Its notion of duty is to resist to its utmost power the efforts of those who would overthrow the Government, and to support the Government in its efforts to maintain its integrity.

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881." The Sun's motto is: "The Sun for 1881."

PATTERSON

1515 1/2 Broadway, N. Y.
Testimonial $95
With Stool.

Deposits made on or before July first, 1880, draw interest from that date, and by order of the Cashier, are invested in bonds of this city or State or of the United States.

German spoken.

DANIEL DODD, President.
W. D. CARTER, Treasurer.
IRA M. HARRISON, Vice Pres.

KIDNEY-WORT
THE GREAT CURE
FOR RHEUMATISM

As it is the cause of all diseases of the KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS.

It cleanses the system of the acid poison that causes the dreadful suffering which only the victims of Rheumatism can realize.

THOUSANDS OF CASES
of the worst forms of this terrible disease have been quickly cured by its use.

PERFECTLY CURED.

KIDNEY-WORT
It cleanses, strengthens and gives new life to all the important organs of the body.

The natural action of the Kidneys is restored. The Liver is cleansed of all diseases, and the Bowels move freely and healthily. In this way the worst diseases are eradicated from the system.

As it has been proved by thousands that is the most efficient remedy for cleansing the system of all morbid secretions, it should be used in every household as a

SPRING MEDICINE.

Always take it in conjunction with EXERCISE, FRESH AIR, and a REGULAR DIET.

It is also in Liquid Form, very Concentrated, and the most efficient remedy for cleansing the system of all morbid secretions, it should be used in every household as a

KIDNEY-WORT

HOP BITTERS.

(A Medicine, not a Drink.)

CONTAINS
HOPS, BUCHU, MANDRAKE, DANDELION.

AND THE PUREST AND BEST MEDICAL QUALITIES OF ALL OTHER BITTERS.

THEY CURE
All Diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, Nervous, Rheumatism, and Debility.

$1000 IN GOLD.

With a paid for a case they will cure all Hop Bitters, and take up as they

D. C. H. has been successful in curing all Hop Bitters, and take up as they

SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

W. H. BUTLER'S

SAFES.

ROUND CORNER,
FIRE AND BURGLAR
PROOF.

EXTRA SECURE LOCKS.

W. H. BUTLER,

Formerly Valentine & Butler,
231 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

GENERAL AGENT FOR
DIEBOLD SAFE AND LOCK CO.

Send for Circular.

The Sun for 1881.

Everybody reads the Sun. In the editions of this newspaper throughout the year to come every body will find:

All the world's news, so presented that the reader will get the greatest amount of information with the least unprofitable expenditure of time and eyesight. The Sun long ago discovered the golden mean between redundant fulness and unsatisfactory brevity.

Much of that sort of news which depends less upon its recognized importance than upon its interest to mankind. From morning to morning the Sun prints a continuous story of the lives of real men and women, and of their deeds, plans, loves, hates, and struggles. Their story is more varied and more interesting than any romance that has ever been devised.

The Sun's habit is to speak out fearlessly about men and things. It is not content to be with the people as a placid mirror, and equal readiness to comment what is blameworthy or praiseworthy.

VI. Absolute independence of partisan organizations, but unwavering loyalty to true Democratic principles. The Sun believes that the Government which the Constitution gives us is a good one to keep. Its notion of duty is to resist to its utmost power the efforts of those who would overthrow the Government, and to support the Government in its efforts to maintain its integrity.